WHO-5 WELLBEING INDEX SCORES (%)

The WHO-5 wellbeing index is a self-rated measure of emotional wellbeing. Respondents are asked to rate the extent to which each of five wellbeing indicators has been present or absent in their lives over the previous two-week period, e.g. "I have felt cheerful and in good spirits". They do this using a six-point scale ranging from "all of the time" to "at no time".

The WHO-5 is scored out of a total of 25, with 0 being the lowest level of emotional wellbeing and 25 being the highest level of emotional wellbeing. Scores below 13 (between 0 and 12) are considered indicative of poor emotional wellbeing and may indicate risk of poor mental health.
